Job Overview:

Wyoming Wilderness Association (WWA) is seeking a full-time BLM Wildlands Community Organizer to promote protection and stewardship of wildlands within the Rock Springs, Bighorn Basin, and Buffalo Resource Management Areas of Wyoming. This position requires a self-motivated, detail-oriented team player who enjoys working with a wide variety of stakeholders within the landscape. An eagerness to learn and a passion for Wyoming's unique BLM lands are essential. This position incorporates working remotely, which requires an applicant who is a self-starter, independent and can contribute to the growth of our statewide program. An understanding of Wyoming's political landscape and natural history is critical.

Desired Skills and Qualifications:

- A Bachelors or Masters degree in natural resources, environmental sciences, public lands policy, or a related field, plus one year of related experience OR an equivalent combination of education and experience.
- Knowledge of NEPA and BLM planning processes
- Strong writing, public speaking, administration, and time management skills.
- Independent, self-directed, and self-motivated with ability to work without supervision.
- Commitment to the mission of the Wyoming Wilderness Association.
- Proficient with Microsoft Office Suite, ability to learn new technology and software tools.
- Although not required, experience with GIS software and map design is a plus.
- Excellent hiking and camping skills.

Key Areas of Responsibility:

- Identify and monitor threats to public BLM wildlands, write comments on management issues and organize our members to engage

- Develop press releases, email action alerts, website content, social media posts and other communications to inform and engage the public in land management processes.
- Complete specific deliverables around the current Rock Springs Resource Management draft plan set to release soon and all the organizing efforts that follow upon its' release.
- Collaborate with partner conservation groups on events, legislative efforts, and projects
- Develop and lead field outings and other community events for local decision-makers, the media, and stakeholders.
- Identify needed stewardship projects and recruit volunteers within the BLM wildlands landscape
- Advocate conservation priorities established by WWA's Governing Council and build collegial coalitions with other conservation groups.
- Maintain leadership role around Run the Red footrace and help organize the event
- Assist with fundraising, grant writing, and other administrative tasks.

Competitive full-time salary (starting $41,000- $43,000 DOE) and includes full benefits (Health Reimbursement Arrangement, vision, dental, vacation). Simple IRA available after one year of employment

*If an outstanding candidate requires a part-time position, the executive director may negotiate a reduced scope of responsibilities.

*Start Date: September 2022
